

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
HEADQUARTERS, UNITED STATES ARMY CADET COMMAND
FORT MONROE, VIRGINIA 23651-5000

JAN 11 2007

S: 1 Apr 07

REPLY TO ATTENTION OF

ATCC-OP-I

MEMORANDUM FOR Region, Brigade, and Battalion Commanders, U.S.
Army Cadet Command

SUBJECT: Civilian Sponsored Scholarship - Armed Forces
Communications and Electronics Association (AFCEA) Educational
Foundation 2007

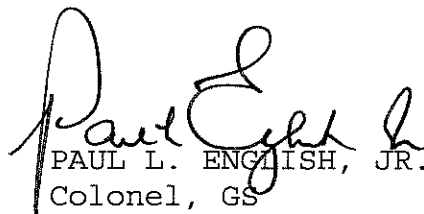

1. The AFCEA Educational Foundation will provide 12 $2,000 scholarships to Army ROTC Cadets, an additional $2,500 award to the top Army Cadet, and a $3,000 Medal of Honor Scholarship. General information for each scholarship is available at www.afcea.org/education/scholarships/rotc.
2. The Foundation seeks applications from ROTC Cadets who are nominated by the Professor of Military Science (PMS) and are working toward undergraduate degrees in the following or related fields of electronics: electrical, aerospace, computer, systems, or communications engineering; physics; mathematics: science or mathematics education; and computer science or technology. Majors directly related to the support of United States intelligence enterprises with relevance to the mission of AFCEA will also be eligible.
3. The AFCEA Educational Foundation application is available at www.afcea.org/dynform/forminp.jsp?fId=390. Applications must be submitted directly to AFCEA and received by the application deadline of 1 Apr 07. Applications will not be processed through Headquarters Cadet Command.
4. AFCEA is offering a new opportunity to Army ROTC Cadets. The AFCEA Educational Foundation in partnership with Future Heroes, a private, nonprofit organization, plan to launch a special "Experience Tour" for AFCEA ROTC Scholarship recipients between the junior and senior years. As a parallel to the classic model summer internship for many college students, Experience Tours would offer ROTC students additional, practical, real-world leadership experience through placement

ATCC-OP-I-H

SUBJECT: Civilian Sponsored Scholarship - Armed Forces
Communications and Electronics Association (AFCEA) Educational
Foundation 2007

5. The application is a requirement and must be forwarded to reach AFCEA by 1 Apr 07 for consideration. Point of contact at this Headquarters for AFCEA Scholarships general information and eligibility requirements is Ms. Dyora Kinsey, at (757) 788-3473, DSN 680-3473, or dyora.kinsey@usacc.army.mil. Specific questions about the on-line application should be addressed to Ms. Norma Corrales at (703) 631-6149 or www.scholarship@afcea.org.

6. The AFCEA Honor Certificate Award, a separate program distinct from the AFCEA Scholarship Program, is also available from the website. One award per unit is offered to a junior demonstrating academic achievement in the scientific and technical fields and leadership potential. Please utilize this program as an excellent retention tool. The PMS makes a selection and the name is forwarded directly to the AFCEA Educational Foundation. Your nominee's name should be sent to AFCEA 20 days prior to your awards ceremony. POC for the AFCEA Honor Certificate Award is Mr. Michael Scheidt, (703) 631-6147, or mscheidt@afcea.org.

PAUL L. ENGLISH, JR.
Colonel, GS

Deputy Chief of Staff, G2